Brunel University London's on-campus pathway provider provides a Pre-Master's in Law for students who may not qualify for direct entry to a degree programme and seek a supportive learning environment.

Study Law at Brunel

Brunel is one of just a few law schools to have invested in a full moot court complete with judge's bench, seating for counsel and court clerks, a gallery for up to 50 other participants, a deliberation room for judges and full audio-visual facilities. As well as helping students hone their skills in court, these facilities are used by our student-led Brunel Law Society for mooting and debating, which we hope you'll get involved with.

We are rightly renowned for world-class research, and our students are our torch-bearers. It's our mission for you to leave with a lifelong passion for the law and understanding how it relates to the wider society. Many of our students are involved in enriching and improving the lives of others through opportunities such as volunteering (for example, in Greece with our Athens Refugee Project).

A postgraduate degree with the Brunel Law School will give you the theory and practice required to navigate these challenges and will give you a rich variety of hands-on experience to prepare you for a rewarding future career in the legal profession.

Brunel Law School is a diverse and vibrant community where you will be supported in your studies and encouraged to develop your skills for your future career.

You will learn in a building dedicated to law, allowing you to be surrounded by fellow law students and academics who are focused on your education on a daily basis.

Careers and your future

The Brunel Law School has strong industry links, allowing us to offer placements in a variety of legal environments to strengthen your learning and professional experience.

With our own law careers advisers, we will help you to work on your future career from day one. As a Brunel Law School student, you will have access to many workshops and masterclasses to gain the knowledge you need to make your first step after you graduate.

You will leave Brunel with a firm grounding in law and with solid legal knowledge, allowing you to be flexible in your future choices.

All our Law programmes offer you the option to study either full-time or part-time and we offer start dates in September and January. Brunel Law School offers small, 15-credit modules, providing further flexibility and allowing you to tailor your study according to your own interests.
